About us:

Mother's Public School™ began its journey in 1991 as Prakrit, a humble pre-school with just twenty students. Over the decades, it has grown into a leading Senior Secondary School, now nurturing more than 5000 learners. Prakrit was originally envisioned as a supportive space for working mothers—offering a safe, reliable environment that helped them balance their professional and personal responsibilities. Mother's Public School also pioneered the concept of a day-boarding school in the city, setting a trend that reshaped early childhood education locally.

Today, Prakrit stands as the Pre-School wing of the Mother's family, located at Plot No. 37, Forest Park, Bhubaneswar-751009. It is a thoughtfully designed day-boarding centre that provides a joyful, nurturing, and positive environment where young children feel happy, secure, and eager to learn. The campus features modern, child-friendly facilities that promote holistic early-years development. With personalised attention and a warm, caring approach, our staff work collaboratively with parents to create a harmonious and enriching learning atmosphere for every child—truly a place “where creative minds begin to bloom.”

Guided by the motto “Service before Self”, Mother's Public School blends strong academic foundations with practical learning experiences. Its dedicated and hardworking team has helped shape students who excel in diverse fields and walk confidently into the global arena. Instilling values of morality, culture, and tradition remains at the core of Prakrit's philosophy, ensuring balanced development rooted in character.

To further this mission, co-curricular and extracurricular activities are seamlessly integrated into the curriculum throughout each academic session. Recognising that personality often outshines all other attributes, the school also embeds specialised soft-skills training to help students grow into articulate, capable, and confident individuals. Every chapter in the success story of Mother's Public School™ reflects its unwavering commitment to excellence and its determination to meet the evolving needs of a progressive society.
